

Help Us Keep Biodiesel Working for Pennsylvania

The Pennsylvania Biodiesel Producers Group is a trade organization formed to serve as a unified voice of advocacy on behalf of in-state biodiesel producers across the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. PABPG serves as a clearinghouse for information regarding the business, environmental, and energy policy benefits of biodiesel and the critical role that biodiesel plays in the future of Pennsylvania's energy strategy.

The Pennsylvania Biodiesel Producers' Group needs your help in securing an in-state incentive program to encourage the production of biodiesel fuel from Pennsylvania-grown feedstock.

It's not enough to support alternative fuel—we need to support Pennsylvania jobs and farmers as key partners in providing tomorrow's alternative fuels like biodiesel.

Achieving True Energy Independence: Pennsylvania In-State Incentive for Biodiesel

COMPONENTS

- The in-state incentive would be authorized for three years.
- It would be funded at $1 per gallon for every gallon of biodiesel produced within the state.
- It would specifically apply at the producer stage, not at crushing or distribution.

JUSTIFICATION

- Current proposed PA policies focus on a usage mandate requiring large volumes of biodiesel.
- Surrounding states provide aggressive incentives to support competitive in-state producers.
- Currently, 80% of biodiesel sold in Pennsylvania is shipped in from out-of-state producers.
- With feedstock prices rising, that percentage will continue to increase without an in-state incentive.
- Our goal is to keep the entire process in Pennsylvania—growing, crushing, grease recovery, production, and distribution.

For more information on how you can help create a strong future for Pennsylvania-based farmers, crushing facilities, and producers of biodiesel, contact PABPG today at 717-761-3511 or www.PABPG.org. Better yet, contact your Pennsylvania Legislator and inform him or her of your support of the Pennsylvania In-State Incentive for Biodiesel.
